Risk management, a tool facilitating resilience, has become a key and central instrument in helping organisations to navigate into the safer futures. Baltic Risk Conference 2025 will explore topics from risk environments, strategic views into risk management, business continuity, DORA and NISZ development to crisis management, impact of AI, sustainability and offer views from experienced field experts.  We believe that the three Baltic countries, Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, similar in size, sharing some common history, and most importantly very same geography, all face the mentioned challenges.  But what methods experts from all three Baltic countries use to address these challenges?  Do they agree on what are the highest risks or there are differences in the approach to risk management?
